

Advice Giving

Traditional v. Commence

Traditional

Commence

What's the advice?

Invest in the S&P 500

Invest in the S&P 500

What's That?

The Stock Market

An index that tracks the 500 largest publicly traded companies

What Does That Mean?

Not Addressed

It means in one action you own a piece of 500 companies like Apple, Amazon and Wal-Mart.

I'm tired, what was that?

Nope- moving on.

Energy cultivation break. Explained via meme, sports analogies, personalization

Can you help me get excited about this idea?

Not addressed

Here are some actuals of small monthly amounts compounded over time, games, etc.

Ok, where do I do this?

Not addressed or at our bank

On one of these recommended brokerage platforms where minimums are low/none and so are trading fees.

Ok, when?

As soon as you can.

At 14 in a custodial IRA, 18 on your own. Any adult can- here are 64 ways to earn more money so you can invest.

Anything else I should know?

No, just that it returns 10% per year.

Yes, here are some Stock analyses, tax benefits, historical market analysis, etc.

Oh- almost forgot- Can you send me some resources?

Write down these resources. Bye now.

Yes, here's a course recap. See you Thursday or at office hours.

Advice is only good if it's credible, actionable, engaging, understood and unbiased.

Commence Foundation Inc, a 501c3 charitable organization, is not a registered securities agent and does not provide individual financial guidance. Nothing in our materials is intended as such or should be seen as a prognostication of future stock market performance.